REACH Georgia Program Overview:

REACH (Realizing Educational Achievement Can Happen) is a needs-based mentorship and scholarship program designed to encourage students to persist in their educational pursuits. Part of the state's Complete College Georgia initiative, REACH school systems identify low income rising eighth grade students who display academic promise and provide them with the academic, social, and financial support they will need to graduate from high school, attend and complete college and achieve success in the workforce.

REACH Scholars sign a contract agreeing to maintain good grades, uphold good behavior and attendance, meet with their assigned mentor at least twice a month, their academic coach once a month, and attend REACH activities throughout each school year until their completion of high school. Their parents or guardians also sign a contract to support their Scholar's educational pursuits. REACH Scholars who complete program requirements receive up to a $10,000 scholarship ($2,500/year) for up to four years to be used towards the educational costs at a University System of Georgia, Technical College System of Georgia, or eligible private postsecondary institution.

REACH is Georgia's first public-private needs-based scholarship opportunity. It is locally owned and operated allowing community members to have a stake in student success. Participating schools systems are responsible for designating a REACH coordinator as well as a mentor and academic coach for each of their system's Scholars. These designees support the REACH Scholars and ensure that they are upholding the commitments they made in their signed contract which include maintaining good grades, attendance, and behavior. The school system is also responsible for gaining community supporters who are willing to assist the student academically as well as willing to financially help support the program.
